ABOUT JAMFEST

JamFest is a non-profit monthly neighborhood summer music festival taking place in the heart of Seattle’s Chinatown-International District. This festival features a variety of live music performances at four venues taking place First Thursdays June through September (June 3, July 1, August 5, September 2). The Wing Luke will serve as one of the venues as well as a check-in point and home base for the event. To visit all four venues, tickets are $8 general ($25 series pass) and $5 for Wing Luke Members ($15 series pass).

The goal of JamFest is to encourage more visitors to experience the rich culture, restaurant and business offerings of the neighborhood through exciting live entertainment and activities. As one of several initiatives, the Wing Luke is committed to contributing to the revitalization of our historic neighborhood, the Chinatown-International District.

ABOUT THE WING LUKE MUSEUM

The Wing Luke Museum’s mission is to connect everyone to the rich history, dynamic cultures and art of Asian Pacific Americans through vivid storytelling and inspiring experiences. It is the first Smithsonian affiliate in the Pacific Northwest and the only pan-Asian Pacific American museum in the nation. We currently reach 50,000+ onsite visitors a year through a dynamic series of exhibits, educational public programs, afterschool youth programs, and a library. The Museum also provides free school tour admission to low-income students annually.
